

WHAT TO EXPECT FROM HOOVER ORDER

Herbert Hoover, government Food Administrator, has fixed December 10 as the day on which the bakeries of the United States shall begin producing war bread, a combination of unmixed wheat flour, skimmed milk and less sugar and lard, designed to conserve the nation's food supplies. Many parts of the country have no idea what war bread is, but public demonstrations will soon be given by the operators of a war bread wagon that has recently been seen in New York streets.

LESSON FOR DECEMBER 2ND.

Lesson Title: "Nehemiah Rebuilds the Walls of Jerusalem."
Lesson Text: Nehemiah 4. Memorize vs. 17, 18.

Golden Text: "The Lord is my helper; I will not fear: What shall man do unto me?" Heb. 13:6.

I. Christian Efficiency.

A great deal is being said in these days about efficiency. We can learn some lessons from our forefathers in that regard. In the record which tells how Nehemiah rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem there are some elements of efficiency which every church and individual might covet to possess today. For example, every family was set in a particular place to protect the wall. Each one was given a particular task. They built the wall with one hand and held a weapon in the other. At the same time they said: "Our God will fight for us." The church today needs the entire family in its membership and work. It should give employment to each one and every one should stand by his job. Faith in God should crown this cooperative work.

One of the names by which the Christian Endeavor Society is known in China is: "The Tug-with-all-your-might Society." That gives the one method by which any christian association can be a success. Life is one big tug-of-war in which evil is all the while trying to get the best of us.

II. The Conspirators.

Probably there was never a community in which there were not conspirators against the church and against Godly people. Those conspirators do not share in the work, they only seek to criticize and hinder it. It takes courage to work against such unkind opposition. It sometimes requires that the conspirators should be plainly pointed out and frankly told to stop their hindering. Conspirators have different methods for hindering a good work. Sometimes they use ridicule. Sometimes they tell lies. Sometimes they fight. When we are sure that our task is God's work for us then we must go right on with our work in spite of all discouragements and opposition.

"Miss Slattery once watched two little children who were busily engaged in building a house with a high wall around it on the sand by the seashore. The tide was coming in; suddenly a wave dashed over the wall, and they looked at each other in astonishment; then came another wave that completely destroyed house and wall and all. She expected the little folks would begin to cry, but no, they gazed long and silently at the ruin and then one little fellow said, 'Come, let's build another one somewhere else,' and the other one answered, 'Let's.'"

III. "Much Rubbish."

The Record says that it was difficult to rebuild the walls because there was so much "rubbish" about. There is a great deal of material and spiritual rubbish in the average church. It overtaxes the burden bearers just as it did in the time of Nehemiah. It prevents the rebuilding and protection of the wall. House cleaning time must come sooner or later. The "rubbish" must be removed. If there is any work of that sort to do in your church set about it patiently and decisively.

Before the saloon is finally banished from the United States there is a great deal of mental and political "rubbish" which must be destroyed. One has only to look at the curious literature put out by "wet" campaign committees to realize how easily the minds of some people are befogged. We decreased the "wet" majority in Toledo decisively in the last campaign. If we could have had a few more "wet" speakers in the city the "drys" would probably have won! Never was there a time when "wet" speakers used more "rubbish" than in the last few months!

It is a crime to be a mere spectator of the great battle for temperance and democracy which is being fought in the world today. "In the laws of Solon it was decreed that in the event of an insurrection breaking out in the streets of Athens, those should be put to death who merely looked on, taking no part in it, on one side or the other."

Winter Fashion Hints

Many dresses now seem to have a definitely outlined natural waistline, but this does not mean that the one-piece coat-like dress will not hold its own in popular favor.

Very fetching are velvet shating blouses, trimmed with fur and worn with matching hats and muffs.

Very lovely are large hats of black chantilly lace and malines that have recently arrived from Paris. These are intended for theatres and restaurant wear and for formal afternoon social affairs.

A novelty in a sweater cap of fiber silk, intended for skating and other outdoor recreation, is shaped like a jockey's cap, and is decidedly becoming for youthful faces.

One hears that the plain, strictly tailored suit is the thing, and judging from the many severely tailored suits that are being worn this proves the case. Then, too, makers of smart suits are planning this type of suit for spring.

Instead of knitting bags, many girls who aim always to be up to the minute are carrying their knitting in their hands, the ball of yarn suspended from a bracelet with pendant attachment for that purpose; yet a black satin knitting bag trimmed with colored beads to match the satin gown trimming with which it is worn is too lovely an example of the fascinating knitting bag to be discouraged.

A consistent economy is the fur coat which fills two roles and can be worn in flaring style for evening or belted in for street wear.
